DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5, 7-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over WO 94/11010.

WO 94/11010 expressly discloses a compositions for wound healing containing zinc, rubidium, calcium, potassium, acids and polyethylene glycol falling within the scope of applicant's claims (pages 3-6, page 7, lines 1-21, page 8, lines 15-36, page 17, examples 1,3-16, claims 1-21.

Alternatively, at the very least the claimed invention is rendered obvious within the meaning of 35 USC 103, because the prior art discloses products that contain the same exact ingredients/components as that of the claimed invention. See In re Fitzgerald, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980). See also In re May, 197 USPQ 601, 607 (CCPA 1978).

Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 94/11010 as applied to claims 1-5, 7-19 above, and further in view of Patterson et al. (US 2002/0141964) in view of the acknowledged prior art.

Patterson et al. teach blood arresting compositions which contain salts, including zinc, rubidium, calcium, potassium, and that citric acid is used to neutralize the irritation caused by hydroxyl ions produced by the blood clotting process (paragraphs 0033,0034,0061,0064,0070).

Applicant acknowledges that MMPs', like MMP-2, lie dormant until activated by zinc and are indicated for healing wounds (Specification, Paragraphs 0004,0005).

The difference between the prior art and the claimed invention is that the prior art does not expressly disclose the use of citric acid or method of demodulating MMP 2. However, the prior art amply suggests the same as it is taught that citric acid is used to neutralize the irritation caused by hydroxyl ions produced by the blood clotting process and that zinc is required to activate MMPs which then acts to heal wounds. As such, it would have been well within the skill of and one ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to modify the prior art as above with the expectation the composition would be effective in treating bleeding wounds and that application of the prior composition to the wound would activate zinc-dependent MMPs as the composition provides a source of zinc ions.

Therefore, the claimed invention, as a whole, would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, because every element of the invention has been collectively taught by the combined teachings of the references.
